LETTER No. ONE

Dear Rebecca,

You asked me to write to you “as a mother, as Mary to Jesus,” and I understand your request. You are asking me to share the things which would “bring you up,” or we might say “take you up,” or perhaps we could even say, “wake you up” – to realize a higher place, to realize your true state of being, and that I am happy to do this as I see these things myself.

I cannot tell you anything you do not know, Rebecca. I John 2:20 says that “you know all things.” All I can do is speak (write), and let the Truth reveal Itself to you through the words. Actually, Rebecca, it is not even through the words on paper that you will receive the revelation your heart desires, rather it is beyond the words on paper, above and beyond!

There is a divine hungering and thirsting for something beyond what we have believed to be true. I will give you some illustrations and hope that they will help you to see what I am saying to you in many instances. Jesus spoke to us this way. He spoke to us in word pictures, or parables, to help us “see” what was being said. I am an artist. I paint pictures and display them in galleries. The paintings I paint, of course, represent something. They represent things I see, as well as the inner awareness I am realizing. For instance, I am realizing that “I Am the Door” is speaking of That which I am, thus I paint doors quite frequently. Yes, doors, which I see on houses in the area. Some are very ornate, others very simple, but they represent each of us being What we are as a door for others to come to and follow through. Begin to see the “world” about you as merely symbols of that which is True in Reality, Rebecca.

Many of those who came to Jesus, however, did not see when he told them things such as this. Many did not read between the lines, did not see what the parables were truly saying. And even though they saw Jesus Christ, the LIGHT which came to reveal their True Self - although it appears they saw, it also likewise appears that they did not know what they saw. It seems they were too intent on wanting a quick fix for a natural state of affairs in their day-to-day life. The divine hunger and thirst covers all, Rebecca. It covers what appears for a while as the needs of everyday life, the practical needs, as well as the infinite knowledge, wisdom and understanding to carry us upward and onward, out of this illusional world, or state of thought, into the True. And more importantly, this hungering and thirsting, or great longing, brings us to a point of revelation of the Truth of Who we are and where we are.

The divine hunger and thirst is for the whole! I do not simply want to be able to live in ease and peace without worry about the problems that seem to present themselves each day in what we call “this world,” but I want to live – really LIVE! In the reality of my true dwelling place, my true body, my true state of being! That is what we refer to as ‘heaven’, and we are there already, Rebecca, always have been, always, eternally shall be.

Jesus told us that heaven is within us and so we must start there. For too long we have started at the point of the problem. We have tried to go “out there” to fix the world, to fix our life, to fix or correct those things which seem to be “wrong,” or error, or distressful, while all along we should have been going within. Going within where? Actually, Rebecca, there is no “without.” Within/without are the same, but to speak in terms of “going within,” we must realize a turning from the world about us, to quieten our mind, silence the thought taking process and be still. Let us start with Truth as our basis for understanding, because really Truth is all there is.

Let us imagine that we hold in our hands a completely round bowl, a fish bowl. It has water in it and a little fish which swims around and around inside the bowl. Now imagine that You are the Great Being which looks down into that bowl and watches the happenings that take place there.

Instead of seeing the fish as a fish, let's imagine it to be a man. If we held the bowl up and looked at it from another perspective we would see something that looks like this (___). That is the bowl. If we look at the left side of the bowl - or parentheses - (as birth, and the right side of the bowl, or parentheses) as death, the little fish (or man) in the bowl thinks this is where he lives. This is what he is conscious of. It is what one would refer to as the human consciousness, if there were any such thing, but understand this, there really is no such consciousness, for there really is no such world. We have only thought there was. That "belief" is only part of the world of confusion, which we have called "our world."

The man (or fish) in the bowl swims between birth and death and this is his world - or consciousness. And because this is his world he runs in circles or cycles. He gets up in the morning, has his morning meal, goes to work or play, has his midday meal, takes his nap, or goes back to work, comes home, has his dinner meal and goes to bed, only to be re-awakened to repeat the cycle day in and day out. This is the world of the "human being," the consciousness of humanness, or "this world," which Jesus spoke of. "The thing that has been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun." Ecclesiastes 1:9. Round and round he goes, without a realization of purpose in that world. He may "advance" in his world of belief, become a Prime Minister, win a great deal of money or some other seeming "accomplishment," but he will only move up in the bowl, so to speak, and not leave it. This meaningless existence is all he knows until he begins to awaken to the truth of Who he is. "Awake thou that sleepest, arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." He must realize that he is the ONE peering into the goldfish bowl, instead of the fish down in that watery world of death. He doesn't realize that that dream character he has imagined himself to be is dead already while making those useless circles over and over again, going from spring to summer to autumn to winter, year after year, or morning to evening and back again, from birthday to birthday, new year to new year, anniversary to anniversary etc.

The fish swimming is "condemned already" (John 3:18) because he has not believed in his true nature (name), that of the only begotten Son (product) of God (Life). You see, Rebecca, there is only ONE. There is only ONE GOD, Which is the only Power, the only Mind, the only Life, the only One. God is not a being somewhere over the rainbow, somewhere way out there. God is Life. God is Light. God is Spirit. God is Love. God is Mind – THE ONLY MIND. All the descriptive words which tell us about God, must be realized AS GOD, and realized as well, as our True Nature, Name, Life, Being. To believe in Christ one must accept that Christ is his life! His very life!

Christ and God are one and the same. "I and my Father are One." "If you have seen me you have seen the Father. Christ is the Light. God is the Light. Father is the Light. Light is Understanding. Light is Revelation. Jesus told us "I am the light of the world." Then he turned to us and told us, "Ye are the light of the world." He was saying, "What I AM YOU ARE!" This does not mean that a little personality named Jane or some other given name, is the LIGHT, but that the LIGHT is being presently represented as Jane or Rebecca, so that a world which is blinded by a world of beliefs, sitting in the dark, circling the bowl constantly without going anywhere, confused and unaware might have something visible which it can relate to, hear and respond, while taking up the death bed and walking away from it.

"This world" – the one Jesus said he was not "of," is nothing but "beliefs." First of all the fish believes he was born. He believes he has a name, a family, a past, a future. He believes he has to work for his living by the sweat of his brow if he wishes to have anything, even to have his daily bread. Although he may pray, "Give us this day our daily bread," he fully expects that he will have to earn it by the sweat of his brow. Again we go to the Wisdom of Solomon (which is the wisdom of One who is awakened and aware) and read, "What profit has he that worketh in that where he laboreth?" What profit is there in all the work man has done, or is doing? With all his medical "work," labor, effort, knowledge, and expertise, there are at least as many illnesses today as there ever were, and with all his scientific "work" he is unable yet to "add one cubit to his stature." The apostle Paul told us that "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus." Does that mean that God depends upon the world's economy? Does that mean that God depends upon what man can do? Does God depend upon education or expertise, or any other source, but Himself? No, Rebecca.

My God supplies! And although there are times when “I” do not know how the supply will come, it comes, for it was never “me” doing it, as the little dream self. It was not “me” who brought me into expression, and it is not “me” who has sustained me for such a time as this. It is not “me” who will by taking thought provide for my self, not “me” who does anything! “I can of my own self do nothing!” John 5:30. Jesus said this. Didn’t we always think that Jesus could do anything? Well, he told us several times in the scriptures that he, of his own self, could do nothing. Paul said the same thing in different words. If these could do nothing of their little “I,” or little dream self, then what makes Jane or Rebecca – or anyone, think we can do anything? For, Rebecca, the personality referred to as Jane is a dream character, not My True Self. Man’s efforts to “work miracles in the name of the Lord, God, Jesus,” etc. is man attempting to be God. When in Truth, man, the personality person, can never “be” God. God is being you and I, but we cannot be God, other than to realize our True I-identity, and that takes you out of the world of “trying” to “make” or “be” anything.

In the world of the fish, the cyclic mentality “believes” that he will live only so many years, that he is a mortal, and that he will have to get old, deteriorate and die. This is merely an assumption, Rebecca, based on belief. This one assumes everything, and knows little if anything. He assumes he has no escape from the usual grind around him, and thinks he will go the way of all flesh, eventually. He believes, perhaps, that there is a God somewhere in a place called heaven. He believes if he does certain things he can go there. He may equally believe that there is a place called hell, and if he doesn’t do the certain things he believes to be a requisite for going to heaven, he believes he will go there. He may even believe that a “soul” could burn in hell for eternity. Have you asked yourself, “How a soul could burn?” Our God is a consuming fire! All that can burn is flesh, and that is the fleshly thinking of the fish, which must be burned away! obliterated, destroyed, dissolved, because it is nothing! The dream character is merely living an illusion, with a veil of beliefs and opinions, which shroud his vision, keeping him circling his world, the bowl, in death until he begins to be still to know! Ps. 46:10.

This little fish is a fictional man – “And makes men as the fishes of the sea” – Habakkuk 1:14. Until this fish is taken up, caught in the net of the Burning Fire, or Burning Bush, or Consuming Love, he will continue to swim where he has no rule – no direction, no true God. In his world there is no God, even though he may worship week in and week out. “Ye worship ye know not what,” Jesus told us in John 4:22. The fish knows not what he is worshipping. He can’t really tell you what God is, or where. He doesn’t know for certain, so he goes about his circular existence ever learning, but never coming to a knowledge of the truth. He is not real, but he is who we have thought ourselves to be. When you look up the word “fiction” in the dictionary you will, in certain dictionaries, find the words “a lie.” The reasoning of this mind, or consciousness of this man, who runs in circles, and lives in cycles, is “a liar and the father of it.” “Of” what? Of the whole world of belief that appears to him to be very real.

He believes that there are four directions, east, north, south, and west. He believes there are 4 seasons, spring, summer, autumn, and winter, birth, children, young men, and old folk, who eventually must die. Yes, it is appointed unto every man once to die, but you don’t have to stay there! You can take up your bed and walk if you can “hear” this word, and “see” the kingdom (consciousness) – which is within you. The fictitious man believes he is separate from every other “man” and that certainly he is separate from God – and that thinking is ALL death is. He believes he is only capable of some things and in his humanness is subject to sickness, disease, accidents, struggle, poverty and, of course, death.

This man, if he reads the Bible, interprets it fairly literally. He sees everything from a physical perspective. He may ascend somewhat in his thought taking process and begin to realize many truths in mind, but still he is held captive in the goldfish bowl.

The physical man goes to his physician. The metaphysical man (or the man who begins to mentally ascend) goes to his metaphysicist, but they are still in the same boat, or bowl, with the same problems, and the world still goes round and round. At least, the man who is seeking to understand and therefore begins to see beyond his so-called physical, material world, realizes some things which take him to a higher place in his understanding and he is on his way, but he will find that though he swims a little closer to the top of the bowl, he is still in the bowl.

Though we all seem to start as a physical being, thinking we live in a solid, dense world of materiality, we eventually do ascend mentally to the realization that we are spirit beings and we even may come to understand something of the mind, and things of a spiritual nature, but this is still the reasoning world, a world of confusion in which the physical man, which has begun a mental ascent, exists. This rational, reasoning man doesn't accept the truth, because he is too busy getting on with his life. It is usually not until a crisis comes in his life, or the pressure gets too great, or questions too many, before he will come to the place of the "little child," and open to something beyond himself. This Something will reveal Itself as the Truth, as the Way, as the Life, which we call God, and It is our True Self. The Bible calls this the hidden manna, which is the hidden man, or inner man, which is the True YOU. It is the Christ Man, or the One we call God. This is the mystery revealed, the Secret Place of the Most High, the Inner Sanctuary, the Holy of Holies, the treasure hidden in the field. And it is the TRUTH, which you are! The Truth of your Being.

The "inner man" you know yourself to be, in Reality, is ever-living, never sleeping, never dreaming. But for a while, it seems, (it only seems) that we are separate from the heavens in which we have our conversation, as Paul told us, for we are ever seated in heavenly places.

If there were no one else in your world, you would still Be. If you never knew that you were born, and thought there was a birth date, which marked such an event, you would still BE! If you did not think, because you had been told, that there were other countries, where would you be? If you had not been told you were a man of a particular race, what would you be? All that you have been taught by man is foolishness! The wisdom of man is foolishness to God and likewise, the wisdom of God is foolishness to man!

You have only thought of yourself as the little fish swimming around and around, but you are so much more than that. The consciousness you have adopted until this revelation is a false state of being. It is really nothing at all, but it sure seems to be something until our mind is renewed. "Renewed" to what? For something to be "re" anything it must first have been that thing it is being renewed to.

Our minds are being renewed to the Truth, the truth of our being! Never concern yourself with "life after death," unless you realize that the only death there is - is the beliefs about birth and death, with a life we have supposed we were living between the two - we are arising from, as we realize our True Nature. Life is eternal, on-going, never has ceased to be. Therefore since "birth and death" are only beliefs and you have always been, you will go right on being - and this is not predicated upon a birth or a death.

The man asleep on the bed dreaming a dream is symbolic of you. He dreams about people and places and then awakens to realize that they were but dream figures in a dream world. So it is with us, Rebecca. Those we consider people and places "in this world" are but dream figures, and thus the night dream is given to us to show us the unreality of the "day dream." Always we have been seated in heavenly places! Always we have been in heaven, living, moving and being in God, and God is ever living, moving and being as us! Heaven is "at hand" - HERE NOW!

Your true self looks into this world and sees the play going on - on the stage of life - and is not harmed by it in anyway. Our minds are being renewed, brought back, returned to "Father's House," which is Conscious Awareness. And this renewing is bringing to our remembrance Who we truly are and Where we truly are!

It seems for a while that there are two road merging, or two worlds, merging as we return again to our True Self - in Mind, and this is what is called duality. It is the double-minded man who is unstable in all his ways. But as we find our Self, and come once again into our right Mind, we realize that the world is nothing like it seems. And what "it seems" is nothing but an illusion. That is why we are told, "Nothing shall by any means hurt you," because nothing in the dream can hurt you!

More and more you will realize these things. Rest in the fact that it is Father's (Your Conscious Self) good pleasure to give you the kingdom (that Conscious state of Awareness and Truth) once again! To bring you home (into Understanding) and to guard and guide the way for you until you realize YOU ARE THE WAY! The Way you are will become more and more apparent to you, until you see the unreality of "this world." As it (this world of fantasy) fades, the True becomes more and real to you.

You will come to see via revelation, and will wonder and thrill to the amazement of the Truth, as the dream you considered to be real diminishes into oblivion. It is incredible this Life we ARE. Life (God) is everywhere equally present always. There is no where in Life that death can be! The whole illusion we have referred to as death is passing away! Come to know the Truth of your being and never see death, sickness, disease, accidents, the so-called evil of this world ever again. Rise and walk, Rebecco. Keep your heart centered on the Absolute! The Truth and refuse to compromise. Know that It – the kingdom - which is the God-Consciousness is always available to whosoever will – whosoever will turn from the world absolutely!

Consider these things and feel free to write me or, better yet, ask your SELF any questions, which come to you. At first we read thinking we can learn, then we find that what we read, if it is indeed Life, will merely confirm those things we know already inherently. Then we read for the sheer pleasure of it, knowing that it is GOD ALONE who is my True I-identity, and we need no man to teach us. God is the “teacher,” the “preacher,” ALL we need. If we read the words and think that this comes from another, we must realize there is no “other.” “I am the Lord there is none else” – there is no other! The Truth, call It Christ, call It the Light, call It God, comes and presents Self and we say “I” for the first time and really mean it. This is a pearl of great price, Rebecco. Hide it in the field, hide it in your heart. Those whose time it is to receive will come to you, the Light. They will be drawn. Otherwise, this is a secret to be kept, to quietly know and to BE. This is not for the masses, Rebecco. This is the Secret Place of the Most High Thought – the Most High Mind – the Most High God. Come in quietly and take your place. Watch and see!

Love, peace, and joy! In Christ (The Light - Understanding)!

LETTER No. TWO

DEAR REBECCO

I understand just how you are feeling right now. My heart goes out to you, but just remember, that Jesus was not received in his day either. People think they want the “gospel,” they say they want the truth, until you begin to present them with something contrary to what they have believed all their life and then they get scared. The interesting thing is, what they have believed all their life has not worked for them. They are still getting sick, having pain in their lives, misery, lack, want, need, disease, death. What they have had doesn’t make any real difference, but it is their security blanket, and therefore they will hold onto the old religious beliefs rather than accept something they cannot put “in a box.”

Unless they are drawn and ready for the truth, they will not be willing to lay down the life they have known, because this is so different from what they are accustomed to. The Truth is so contrary to popular religious beliefs that until one is drawn by the Truth Itself - they will resist it and thus resist you. The veil is still over their eyes. The veil is the illusion. The scales – which are beliefs and opinions must fall away. And this will not happen until the inner eyes are ready to see. They wanted to kill Jesus for presenting the truth to them, keep that in mind.

However, Perfect Love, which is the True I-identity of all, casts out all fear. And when Perfect Love, which is Christ, comes to them they will come to you for all you can give them. And believe me, when Christ is pressed upon, you will have the words of life they need, want, desire, for from your very being will flow rivers of living waters that will not cease.

Jesus asked, “What did you go out for to see?” And Christ is still asking that question, because religion is still looking for a man in a long white robe and long dark curls, as they imagine him. Christ comes and he is still not recognized. He comes as Rebecco, as John, or whoever, for Christ is the Life, which can manifest in any form, and yet they do not recognize him/it. He came to his own and his own received him not. He still comes to his own and still they do not know or receive him, and they would still crucify him because the package is not what they expect.

Rebecco, I can only tell you this that you are blessed because you have eyes to see and ears to hear. Just remember that there is only ONE, so all who do not see are like dream characters walking about on a stage in a dream world. I do not go out to tell people "about" the truth. I know Who I am and I know that "I" if "I" be lifted up, I will draw all men (man-ifestation) to me, not the "me" which some call Jane. "Jane" is nothing. "Rebecca" is nothing, but the ME they are drawn to is the One that ever lives and presents in whatever form this One so desires. This is the "Follow me" – Me.

After the crucifixion, remember the One came as a gardener to Mary, a woman who had known Jesus so very well? Some even believe she was married to him, others believe that she was at the least in love with him, but regardless, she did know Jesus very well. Yet she did not recognize the "form" when Christ presented himself as a gardener. Those on the road to Emmaus called him a stranger and did not know until they had sat with him eating and he disappeared from their view, and their hearts had burned within them as The Voice spoke to them, that this was again Christ in yet another form. The form is not important, and yet, there must be a revelation, a transformation and a translation in a way, before one can with true understanding realize their very LIFE IS CHRIST: Colossians 3:4.

How many times did I read that verse, and then one day I saw it and I knew, but the eyes must be opened and we cannot do that for another. Actually, Rebecca, there is no "other," Eccl. 4:8. And since, there is no "other," there is no one we have to convince of the Truth. Only God can see God. Only God can hear God. Only God can know God.

Three times in the Song of Songs we read, "Do not awaken my beloved until he please." This merely tells us that we are let people be where they are and not attempt to awaken them. Let them "sleep," if you will. Let them be in their illusion, for the same God, which has begun awakening us, is fully able to awaken anyone at the time of His choosing. And since, in truth, God neither slumbers nor sleeps, there is really no one asleep either – no true dream or dreamer. It is just that God begins to "act" and as God acts there is an awareness, which comes within. God acting, living, moving and being causes my eyes to be opened and I begin to stir in a new country.

This is the pearl of great price, the secret place of the Most High, the Holy of Holies, the hidden man of the heart, the Truth, Rebecca and it is not to be cast before swine, for they will turn and rend you and will, if they cannot hear, trample it under foot. And this is tooooooo precious to casually attempt to "use" or try to make someone see. It is guarded with our Life, for it is our Life. "LET," Rebecca, "let." Let God be God. We do not have to take this to the multitudes as we always thought was needed to do with religion.

It amazes me now to think that we thought that God needed man! God needs nothing – for God is all! Therefore in realizing that God, Christ, Life, Love, Power, Omniscience, Omnipotence, Omnipresence, and Omniaction is ALL, why would we even consider that we need to go tell anyone anything. The Power, Which is the Only Power - the Mind, Which is the Only Mind – knows all already, and is fully capable of presenting Self! Do yourself a favor, and unless they come to you with the ground of their heart prepared to receive the Seed-Christ, leave them alone. If there are ears to hear they will come. Otherwise your words will not be received and you may be hurt in the process. Remember the seven sons of Sceva? If we go "out" in a zeal without knowledge, to try to convince anyone of the Truth, we may come running home stripped of the little bit we have seemed to know. In Reality, you know all things, so in this time of realizing the Who, What, and Where you are, rest and learn to be still and quiet. In quietness and confidence is your strength. It is one thing to suffer for Christ sake when you are doing nothing but "being," another to put yourself in that unnecessary position, by trying to force feed someone who is not yet hungry and thirsting for righteousness (right thought – which comes from the Only True and Living Mind). When someone is ready, is because God has come to them already. They have seen Christ and realized the Truth so much so that they do not care what anyone thinks about them. They do not care one whit what anyone says, for no "thinking," none of men's beliefs, hold any power or substance.

As for "New Age," well there are a number of things to say about that. First, God is the God of all ages, bar none, and yet ages are "in time," and thus they are not of any real consequences. Another thing, "New Age" is simply a term, a name, no different than "Baptist," "Charismatic," "Catholic," "Pentecostal," "Kingdom" etc.; all of which are religions of the world, and are in fact: the world. There is only ONE NAME under Heaven! Only ONE. You will never fit the Truth into any religion, into any creed or belief system known to man. There is nothing wrong with any of them, but they are merely man's attempt to climb up some other way, and are all part and parcel of a dream world. So we leave them alone and worry not about any of that. "What is that to thee? Follow thou me."

This goes far and above a physical, material, natural world – far and above even a mental concept of what God is. This is Life, Rebecco, the Life behind all, the Life of all, in fact: All in ALL, and this cannot be faked, cannot be duplicated, cannot be falsified, for God will not give his glory to another. And yet, God is living ALL!

There is no one to save, heal, forgive, change, convince, correct, convert, etc. God is all, but it takes a revelation to receive it. You cannot bring anyone else the revelation. The Holy Spirit IS THE REVELATION, and IT must come before one is ready and able to see or hear. You just be, enjoy being and let it go. If you feel you have a ministry, as you are finding out - you have been apprehended in the midst of life as you have thought of it - and you will begin to let things go, even formal ministry. There may be some who love you and they will "try" to hear what you are saying because of their love for you. But there will be others who will hear and will come to you and they may not even be of your "group." Groups pretty much go out the window with this, Rebecco, because his is a solitary life. You will find your love and support in one here and another there, but they will come to you not you to them. And realize that anyone who comes to you now, will come as the ONE, the same One you are, yet in their own individual expression of God.

Learn to enjoy being alone, but you will never truly feel alone. "Aloneness" will become your friend. I never mind being alone. I never mind being quiet. In fact, I would like to be so more. But once you realize this, you seem to go on about your business only to find that you are part of the body of God, and It finds you in one way or another.

Do not worry about being lonely. You have been awakened to be revealed and some will come to you that you may not even know now, because they too are hearing "The Voice." You are the light of your world, and as you simply "be" you will draw many to your Self. Do not feel that the new relationships mean that you have to tell everything you are seeing. Just relax and now, finally – begin to Live, really Live, and enjoy Life.

You are not alone, for the "I" you are recognizing as your True Self will never leave you, cannot leave you, will enlighten your understanding and will guide you into all truth. There is nothing to fear. There is nothing to worry about. There may be some difficult days for you, but it is only because our God is a consuming fire which must burn away all the dross of "this world" from our thinking. When the fire comes you will go through and come out the other side without the smell of fire upon you. There will be moments of intense heat and pressure, which the Bible calls "tribulation," and you will experience these. In fact, that is what you are experiencing right now with those about you who are criticizing you and not understanding what you are saying. This fire, though it is hot, and painful, will not consume you, for you are the burning bush – the eternal Flame within, but the bush is not consumed! The "heat," or pressure you are sensing will only serve to consume the ego-ic personality you have considered to be "Rebecco." It is not easy, but is worth it to gain Christ, to really know Who you are and Where you are and that you are an immortal being, God being! And, besides, you have no choice! To know it mentally is one thing, to KNOW IT is quite another.

But would we have it otherwise? No! A million times no. Let the fires burn, and if we cry out it is only the personality crying out, because it knows its time is short. Let the world go on about making its movies talking "of" and "about," with all its foolishness. We know that the cross is our experience, crossing out every thing we have ONLY believed and thought to be true. What we have thought to be true and TRUTH are not the same.

Truth is that which has always been and will always be. Nothing can stop the Truth. You are not the first to be lived through. It appears there have been countless millions, yet there is in Reality only the One appearing as many. It is after all, a many-membered body.

I do not know of any one right there in what you consider to be your part of the world, but Rebecco, your world will change rapidly with revelation. Heaven and earth, as you have thought of it - will pass away. There is no world of nations, countries divided by lines and names. That is all man's doings. Man separates, multiplies and divides. God unites! Man drew out a map called it "the world," or planet earth, drew lines between countries, showed it to you and presented it as truth. It is not. In God, there are no individual countries subdivided. Remember, Truth is that which has always been and always will be. Don't worry about a "natural world" which you can point to on a map or globe. You are in the Real World now Rebecca. The Spirit is all! And it has no dividing lines, no subdivisions, all is ONE HERE, Rebecca.

As for those who warn you regarding making God a Principle, they have no idea what God is, where or Who. What is that to thee? Follow thou me!!! A Principle is Truth. When something is said to be a Principle it is because it is the bottom line, the final statement, THE FACT! If God is not the Final Word on the subject what is? God – which IS Life, is the First, the Last, the ONLY WORD! The ONLY PRINCIPLE. And yes, God is a PERSON, the PERSON OF CHRIST, a MANY-MEMBERED PERSON! Of which they are all one, even though in their ignorance they do not recognize it. There is NO GOD of this world, for in reality there is no "this world." The God that religion seems to pray to is not a reality at all. That is why Jesus told us, "My kingdom is not of this world." Well, if his kingdom is not of "this world," then what would make one assume that God would be a part of "this world" which has nothing to do with the Kingdom with which Jesus is familiar or associated?

Again, Rebecca, let not your heart be troubled. The arguments of men are nothing. The warnings come from the blind leading or being led by, the blind. There is nothing to fear! "Call to me and I will answer you, and I will show you great and mighty things you do not know!" "Fear not! For I am with you. Be not dismayed. I am thy God!" "I am the Lord, there is none else"... and on and on, and yet those who say they have faith - as they faithfully warn you, quake and fear that you will be misled, or rather that they might be misled. Can you not see the nonsense in that? Surely you can. Surely you do.

I have no fear, Rebecca. I know my God, and I am no longer fooled by this world, at least not to that extent. When they are ready the Teacher, which is God, will come to them, but until they are, leave them be. What is that to thee? All is well. Peace reigns when you allow it to rule and reign your heart. To "reign" means to "rest." Enter the rest of God, for there is no "other."

Love, joy and peace to you, Rebecca. Keep in touch, for we are ONE!

In Love with you,

Jane

LETTER No. THREE
NOVEMBER 25, 2005

Hello Rebecca!

So very good to hear from you again. It has been a while! I am so pleased for you that you are realizing your True Self. It is, after all, not "Rebecca" who lives, but CHRIST! Rebecca has been crucified, done away with in Christ, gone forever, because, truly my friend, "Rebecca" never was! It is only Christ who lives! Christ comes in the form and under the present name of Rebecca, so that your world might see the Light! You are the Light to your world. That is why your people there are thrilled at "the coming of the Lord."

Oh, Rebecca, each day is a revelation, each day more and more the understanding comes. Do you now know the wonderful thing about there having been no "human Rebecca?" That means that since Christ is God and God IS ALL, there is nothing but Christ, or you certainly may be realizing by now that: there is nothing but God! And when we realize this and realize that there has never been any other way, any other world, anyone but Christ-God, then we realize that we were never born, and we will never die. There is nothing but Life. What we have been calling "life" until the revelation of Christ - is like a dream, and the Real and the True, and of course - the Eternal life, world, body - is God. You are God-being. God is "being Rebecca" right now. All is within you! All exists because of you! It is all in mind. All things, all people, all which appears to be happening is God, but rise into the Christ Mind and realize that there are no "bad" things or "bad" people. All is God, so all is good and very good! You will truly come to know this if you do not already. The world will change for you. Your whole perspective will change, but then I believe that is already taking place in you.

When you grasp this, my friend, you see that since God is All, and God is not sick, there is no one sick anywhere! "Sickness and disease" do not have a leg to stand on. Tell your people that when they seem to have symptoms to realize that there is Only One Power and that Power is God. Sickness has no power. Disease has no power. They are NOTHING! God is all and God is not sick. GOD IS THE ONLY POWER. Sickness is all a figment of the imagination of an unrenewed mind, the mind which has lapsed into what seems like a dream. Evidently you are awakening to righteousness, you are waking up to your True Self! "Awake thou that sleepest and Christ shall give thee light (understanding)."

Since truly: God is all, and God is not poor, there is no one poor anywhere. Since God is all and God is Life, there can be no death anywhere! No one has ever died, Rebecca, and no one ever will. Your mind is being renewed to the state of Truth, the state of True Awareness and Consciousness!

Since God is all, and God is abundant Life, you will begin to realize Life and It more abundantly from now on and forevermore. We have given everyone and everything the glory – but God! We have all thought that our daddy, papa, father, whatever you call your dad there, provided for us. Then you may have thought it was your education, congregation, "job," employer, the government, or someone else who has provided for you, but Rebecca, it was YOUR TRUE SELF, the One we call God, who has been providing all for you all along. Your True Self, Christ, or God – has been bringing whatever was needed to you in each moment. So long as we think that we have been doing it, we have limited our self. But when we truly begin to give God ALL the glory, realizing that God has provided every leaf on every tree for us, every grain of wheat we have ever eaten, every piece of money we have ever held in our hand, as well as our very hand, every cloud in the sky, every bird that sings, - God – Our True Self, the Inner Man, the Hidden Man of the Heart has provided every single thing, then we may relax and rest in the fact that God, MY TRUE SELF, The Very Christ – which is ALL there is, will continue to provide for me. For the manifestation is provided for even before it came into the world, and is provided for so long as it is manifest. The visible and the invisible are One.

You will come to know: "I will know the way to turn and this will happen. I will know to go somewhere and there some wonderful thing will be provided. I will find I have a new talent, skill or ability and it will not be like work, it will be like being paid or being given something in return for 'play'."

Realizing that YOU are GOD, Rebecca, not as Rebecca, but God living Rebecca, you will find that you will do without nothing. You will no longer be limited, but everything you could need will come to you. It has already been coming to you all along, but you have limited it by believing it was little ole' Rebecca who was doing it. Now, as you give God all the glory, and listen within your heart for direction, you will intuitively know which way to go, what to do, when to do it and you will see wonderful things happen, that you could not do in a million years as your own "little self."

And, when you know in your heart what to do, where to go, that something wonderful is going to happen where you go, or with the person you are going to meet, or by "a way you know not of," then "see that you tell no man." What you tell your Father-Consciousness in secret will be shouted from the rooftops. See that you tell no man. Ponder it in your heart and watch and see!

You will further come to see that you do not have to struggle like you once did. In fact, you will expend little effort, for work becomes like play, and provision comes easier than ever. You will be healthy, wealthy and wise, simply by knowing WHO you are. You don't have to prove anything to anyone, either Rebecca. You just rest in knowing that "CHRIST IS GOD AND GOD IS ALL." If you do not know anything but this, and come to know it with all your heart, you will experience Life in a greater measure every moment, every day.

Learn to LIVE in the moment, Rebecca. Since God is all, there is no past and no future. In "this moment" you have all you need, and you know all you need to know! "Forget those things which lie behind." "Look not back." Let all idea of a past go and let memories go as well, and then you will not experience pain, regret, sorrow, depression, or any of the other "feelings" which might be associated with a past. And - as Jesus said, "Take no thought about tomorrow." (Mt. 6:25-34) Today is the day of salvation! Today is the day of the Lord. Today is the ONLY DAY. This moment the Only moment. Then there are no regrets about a yesterday, no worries about a tomorrow.

Living in the NOW we begin to truly LIVE, for GOD is ALL in the moment. "There is therefore NOW no condemnation." "NOW is the day!" "NOW faith is the substance..." "Only he who NOW letteth will let." Can you hear this? I know you can Rebecco, because you are! And your report is wonderful.

Oh, my friend, were I able to just give you a hug! I am so wonderfully pleased for you. Thank you for letting ME into your Life. It is not Jane you have let in, it is ME, the ME which said to you, "Come unto ME." There is only One of us! Only One. Know ME! And know Life. There is only one I, and it is THE I THAT I AM!

Please share my love with the people there in the Philippines. I rejoice with you in your revelation and share your joy! Let me continue to hear from you. I am there with you in Spirit, for there is truly no distance. If we never see the "form" it doesn't matter, Rebecco. It is the Heart, which we share that matters, and that is all that matters.

Love, joy and peace, my friend... We are truly One - In Christ –

jane
